About international cooperation of non-profit associations of manufacturers and entrepreneurs

In the current unstable economic situation the role and responsibility of all participants of business processes is increasing.

Non-profit alliances of manufacturers and entrepreneurs, generally operating in the forms of associations and unions, can undoubtedly contribute to solving current problems. One of the ways of solving these problems can be the participation of business associations, acting primarily in the interests of their members and partners, in the development of international cooperation.

The prospects for the development of international cooperation are obviously connected with the active use of modern communication resources, one of which is the Internet service International Forum “THE WORLD OF BUSINESS ASSOCIATIONS” (website: www.npoforum.org).

Participation in the Forum creates conditions and prerequisites for a direct dialogue between representatives of business associations, their members and business partners: this dialogue is the best way to achieve mutual understanding and effective economic cooperation.

The organizers and participants of the Forum are not involved in politics and do not express any political views in this project.

This Memorandum is open for all interested organizations and people to join and to improve the project through the proposals of aforementioned.
